

Friday,
March 15
2:00 to 5:00 pm

MIT campus
Building 14, Third Floor
in Room 14E-304

Register:
<https://shorturl.at/gABR2>

Culture Learning and Teaching in Applied Linguistics

Claire J. Kramsch

Emerita professor of German, UC Berkeley

“Quiparle?: Reconceptualizing Culture In A Globalized World”
A reflection on the need to re-conceptualize “culture” in discursive/semiotic terms and along poststructuralist principles.

Sang-Seok Yoon

Assistant Professor in Korean Linguistics, University of Iowa

“Beyond Hallyu: Tackling the Challenges of Teaching Culture in L2 Classrooms”

Scrutinizing prevailing trends in cultural education within Korean language classes

Co-organized by MIT Global Languages and SUNY at Binghamton.
Supported by the Academy of Korean Studies.